

KU SBDC's New EMAP Specialist

The KU SBDC is happy to welcome Mary Ann Puleo as our new EMAP (Environmental Management Assistance Program) consultant. Puleo has a BS in Environmental Science from the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry and several certifications, including SARA and RCRA trainer, 40-Hour HAZWOPER, and Environmental Auditor. Puleo brings many years of experience as an Environmental Specialist, an Advanced Regulatory Information Specialist, and an Associate Compliance Manager.

She is available to share her expertise in assisting with any environmental issues you may face. She can help you learn how to prevent hazardous pollution before it's ever created, increasing efficiency and reducing the associated costs.

In addition, she can help develop a strategic approach that will cut costs and improve profitability, including:

- Confidential assistance to help you understand regulatory requirements
- Strategic environmental management and planning activities
- Interactive seminars and workshops
- On-site pollution prevention and energy efficient assessments
- Links to sources of technical and financial assistance
- Fact sheets and guidance materials

Puleo's home base will be at our new Langan Center at 145 N Sixth St., Reading, PA 19601, but she is available to any of our clients in the south-central regions. She can be reached at 610-208-4641 or 484-256-6294.
